

あ

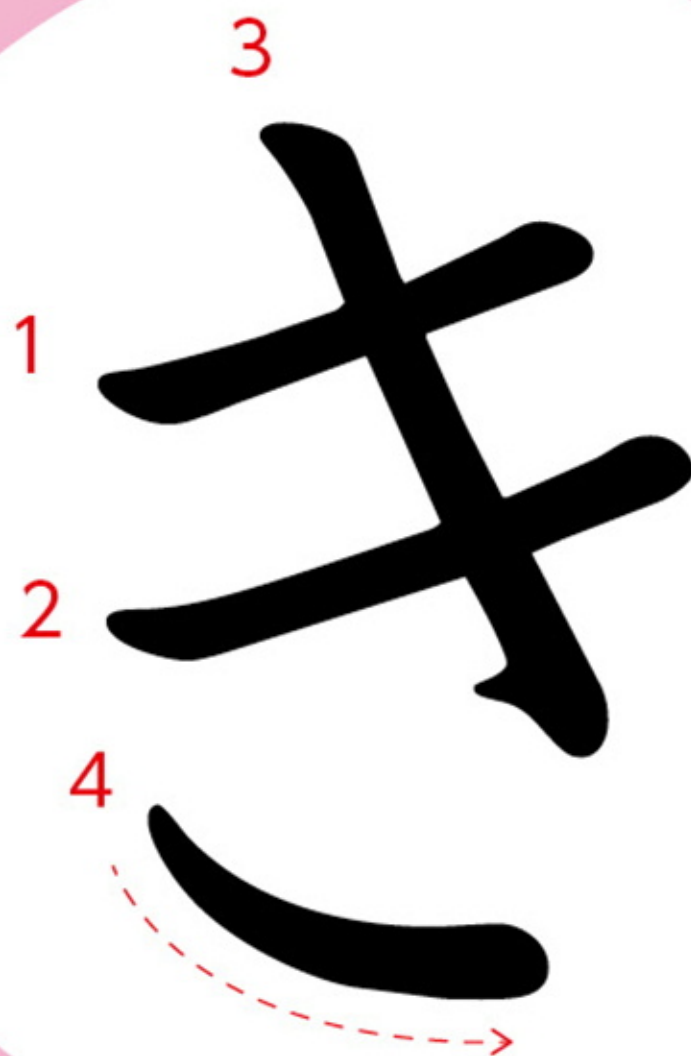

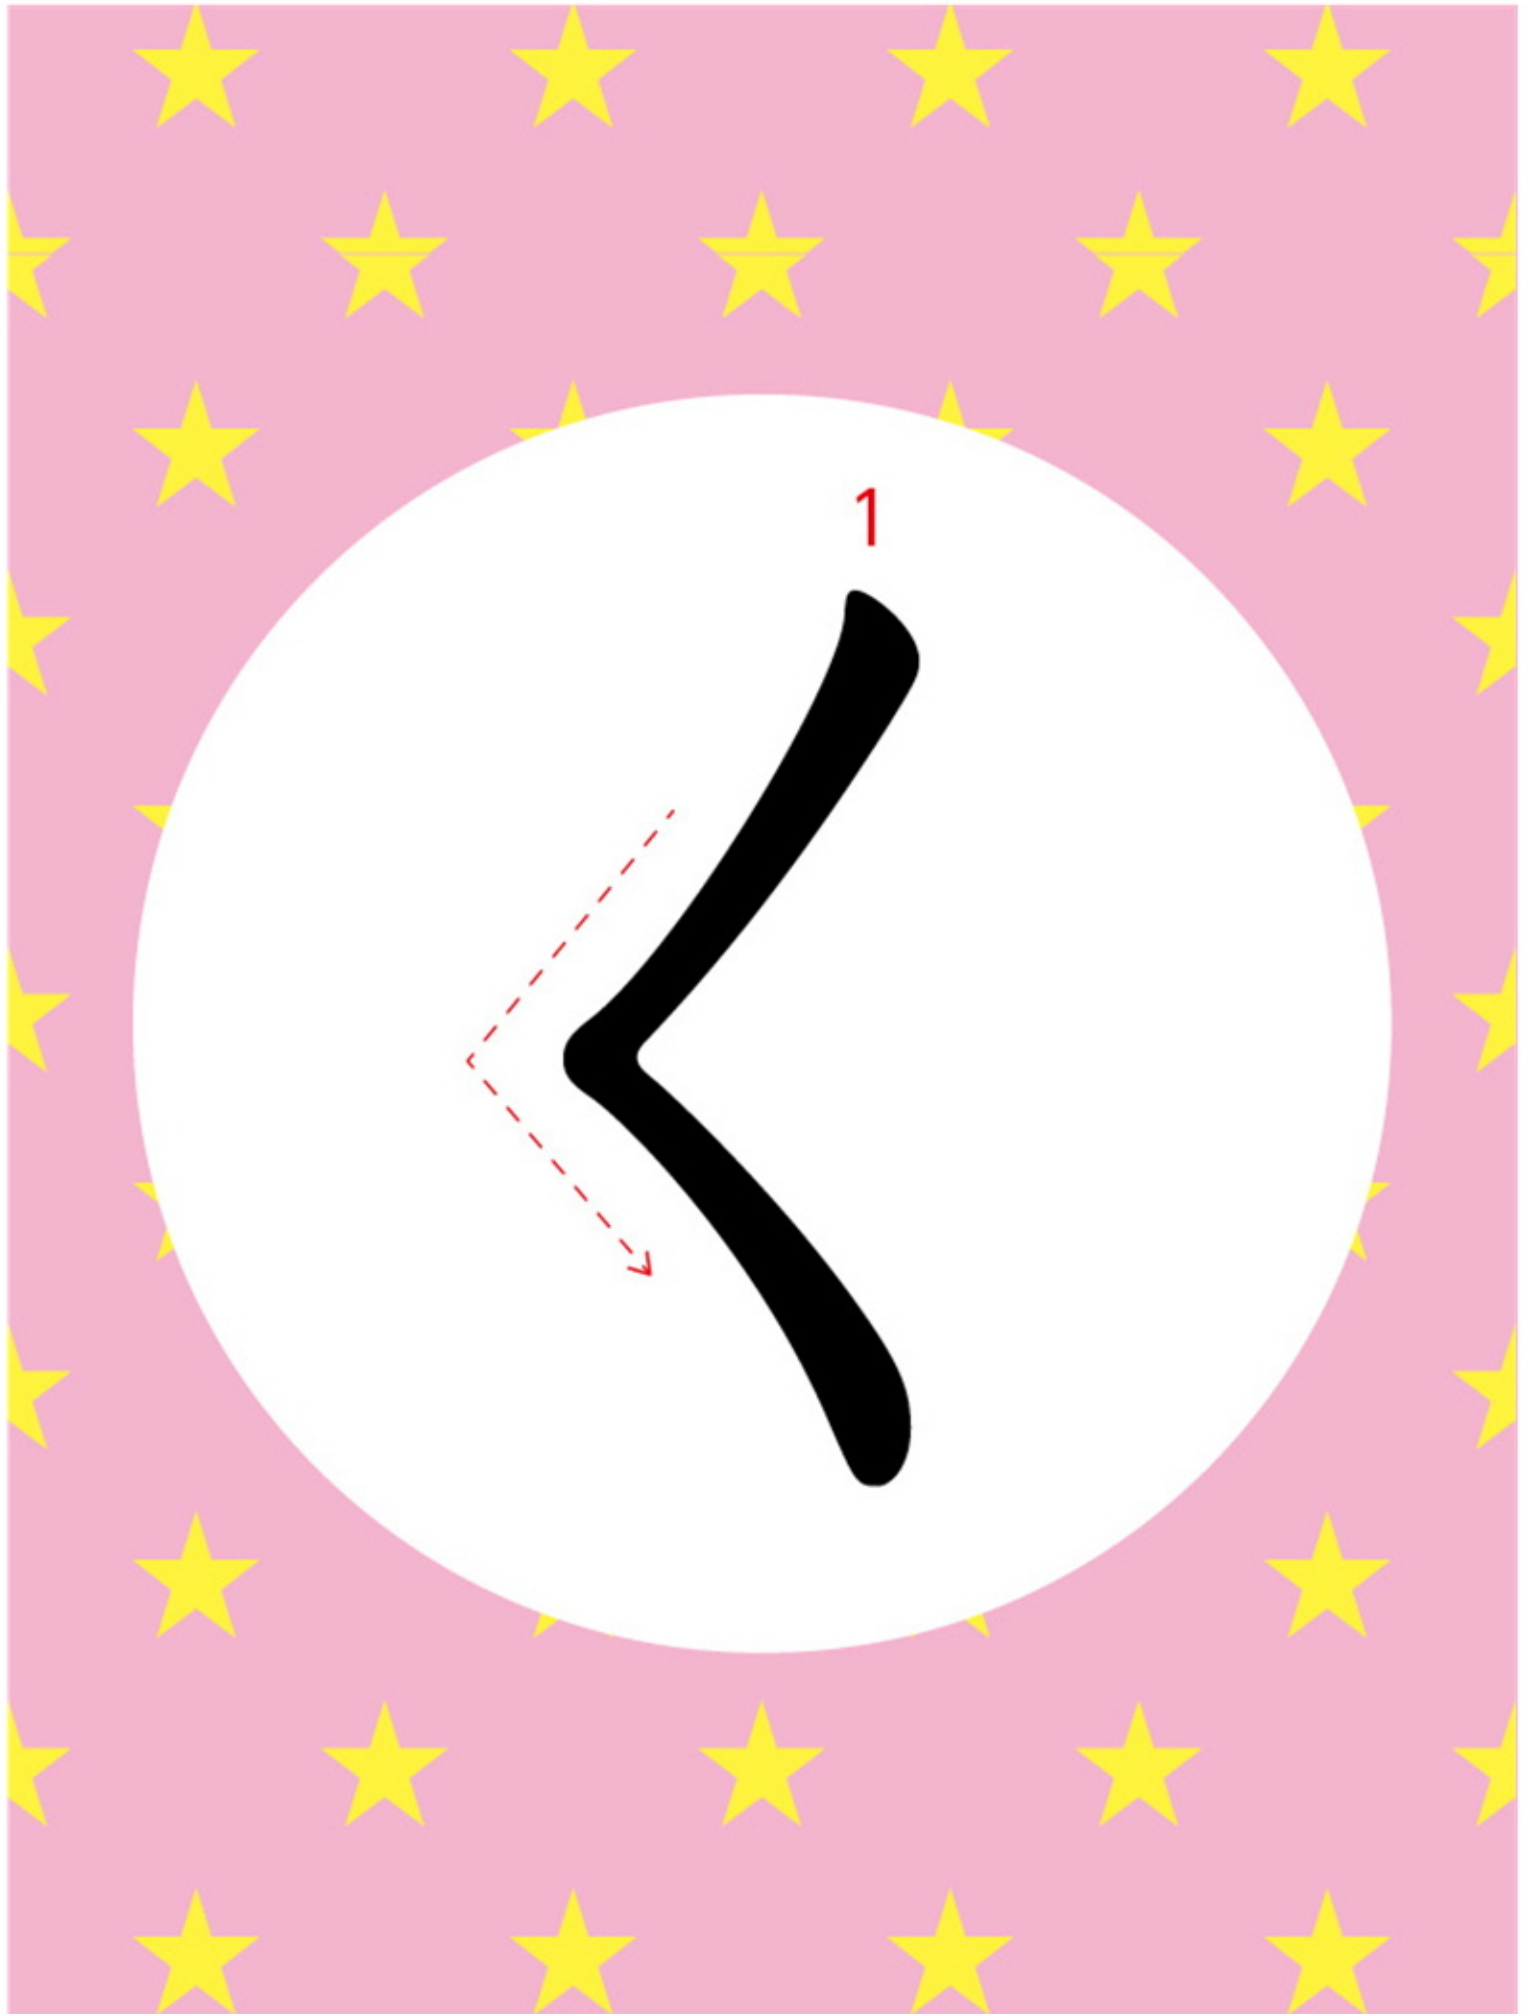

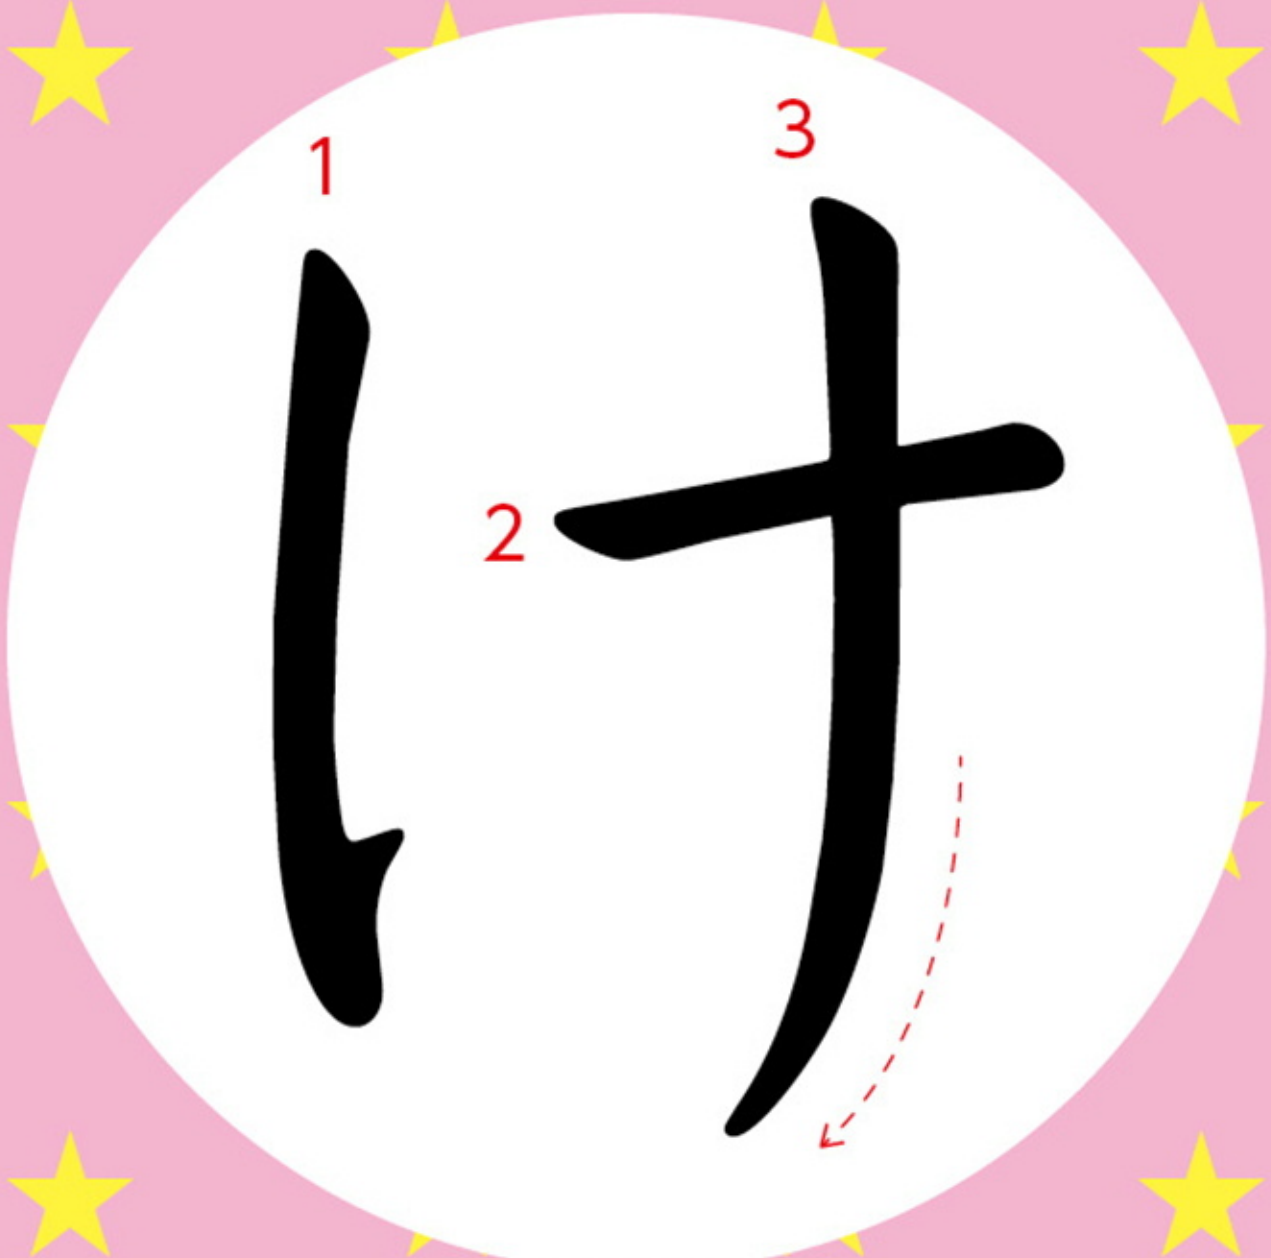

か

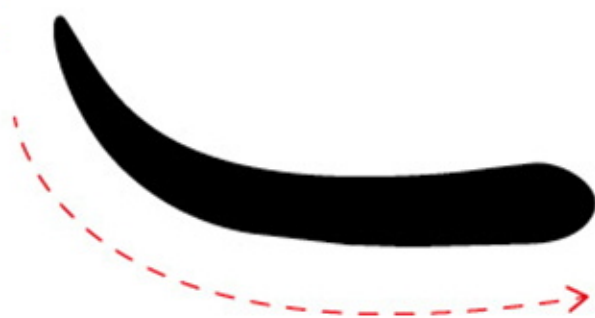

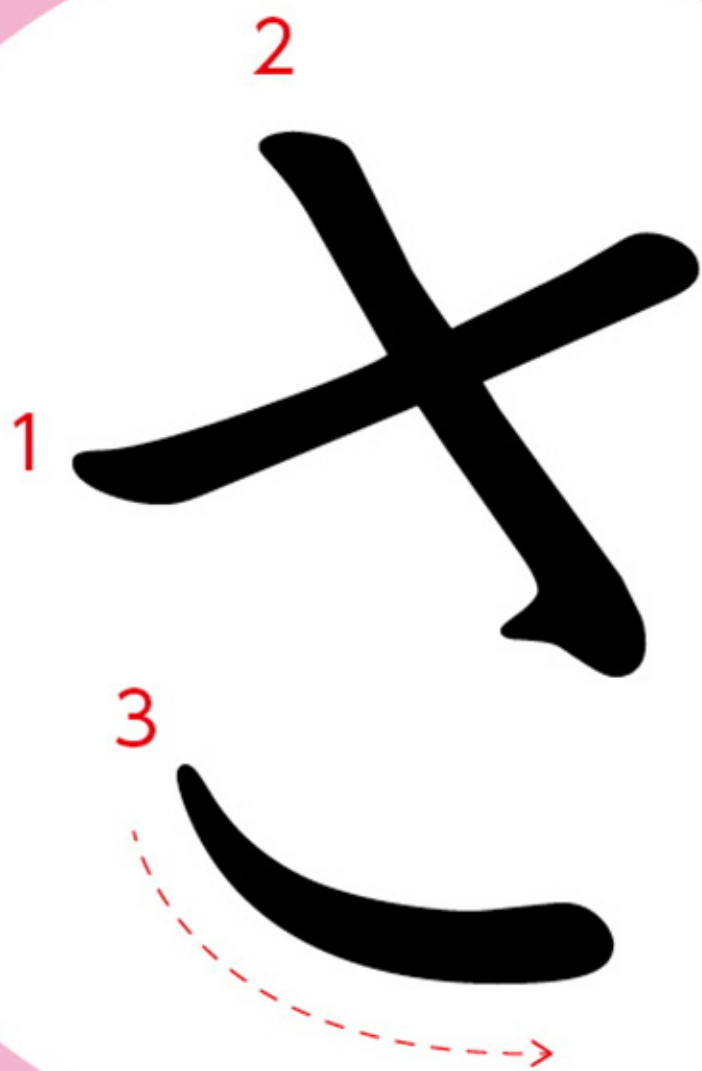

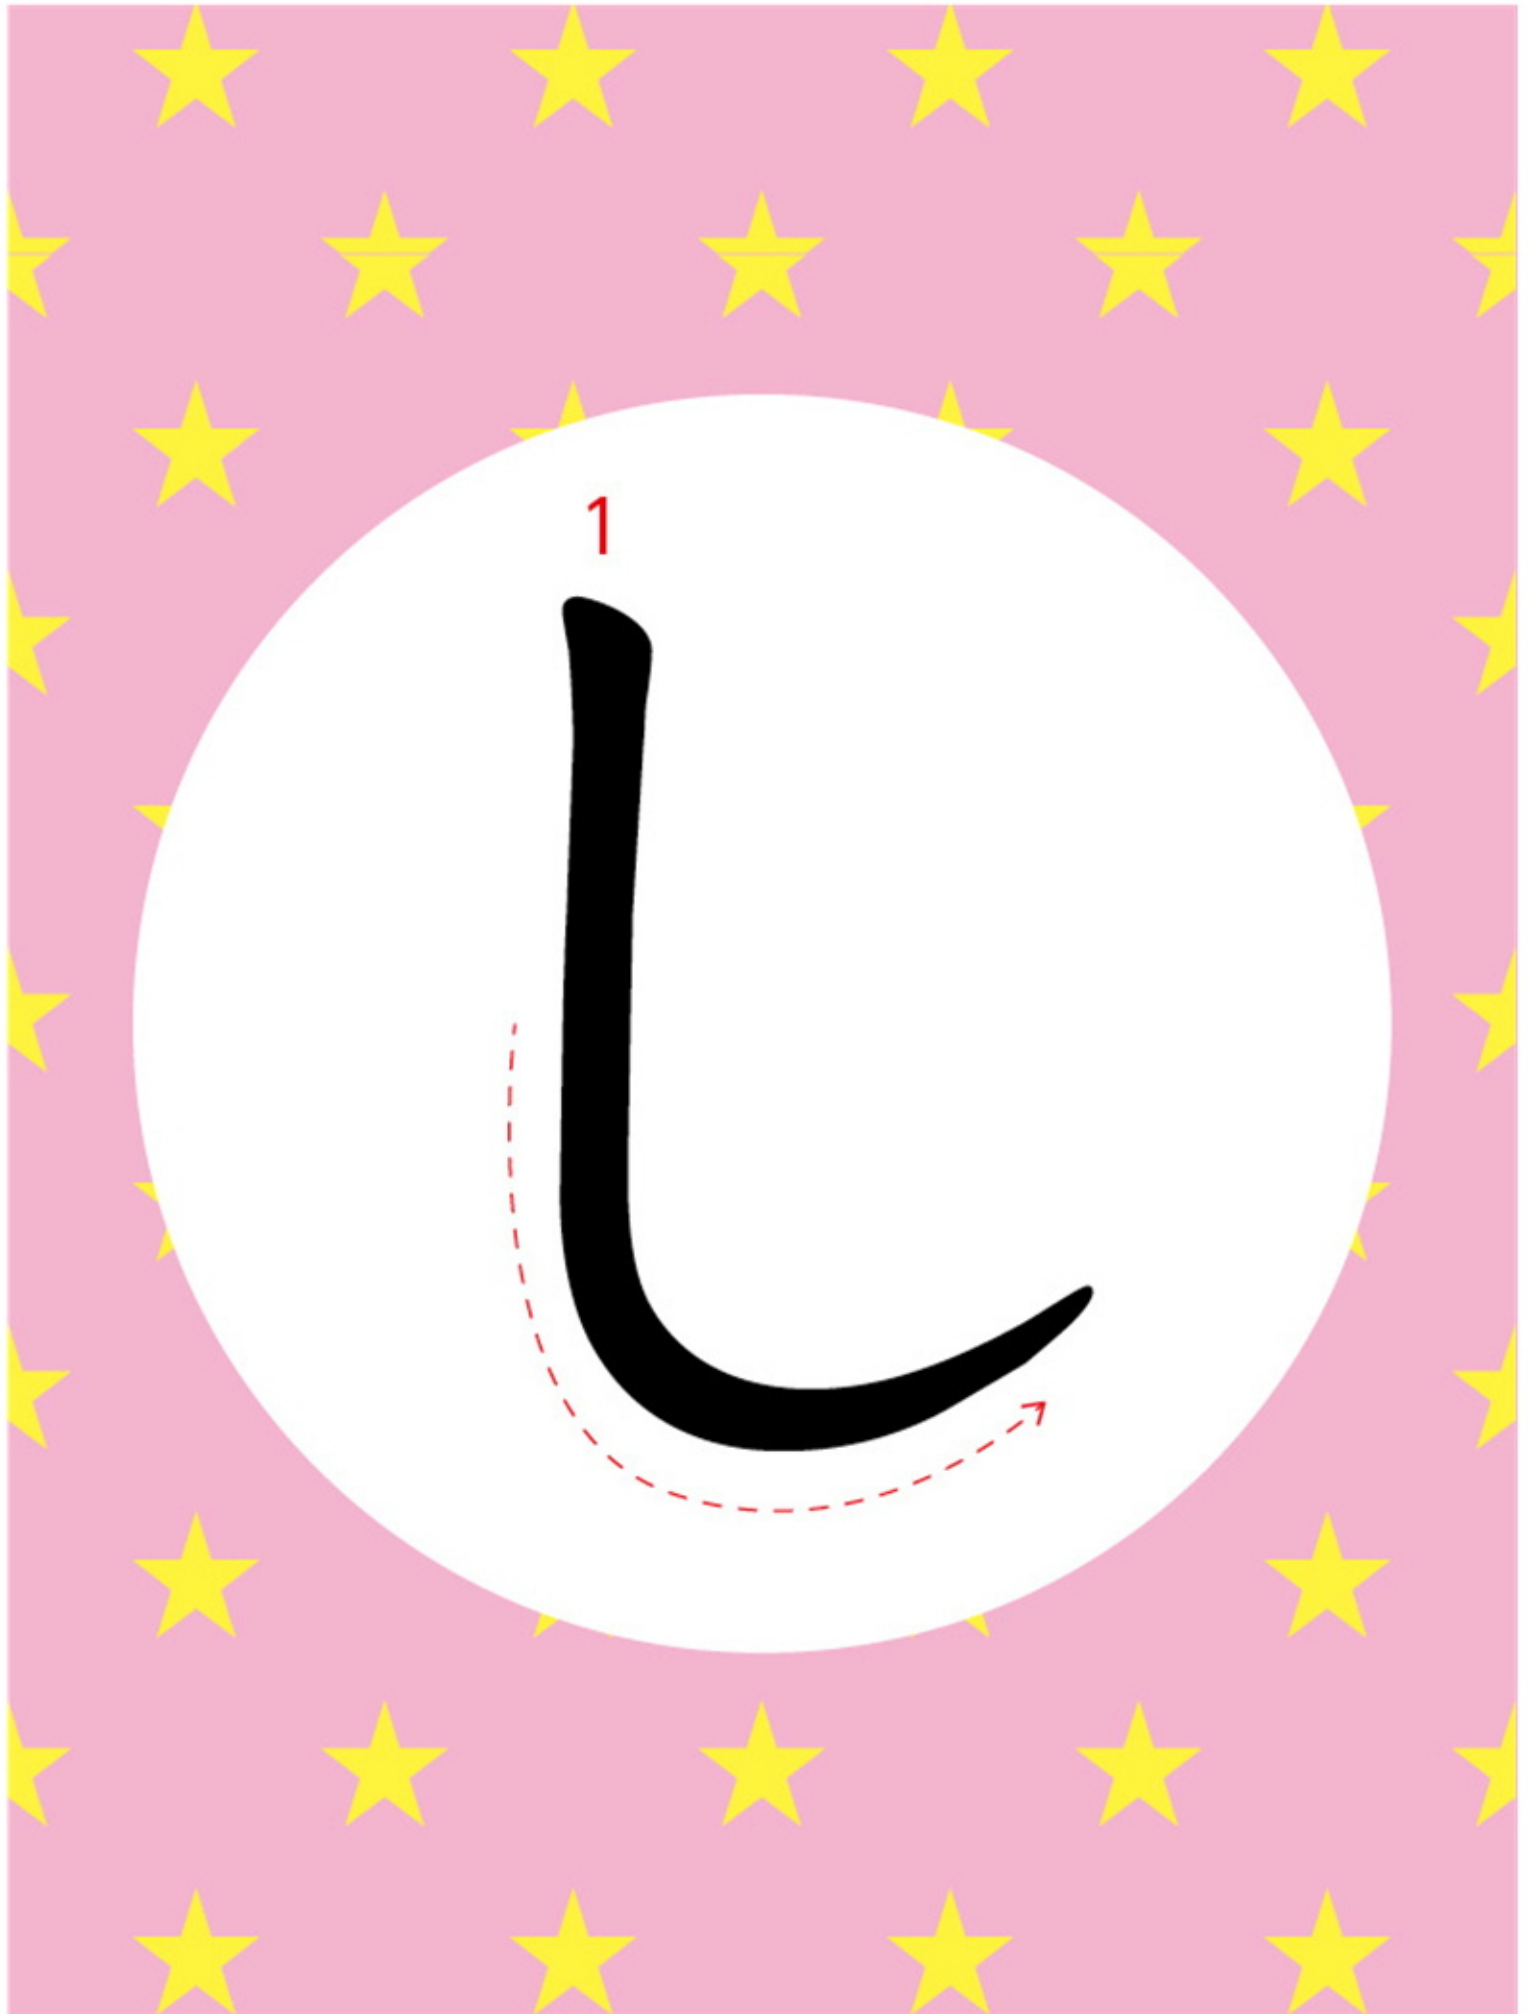

1

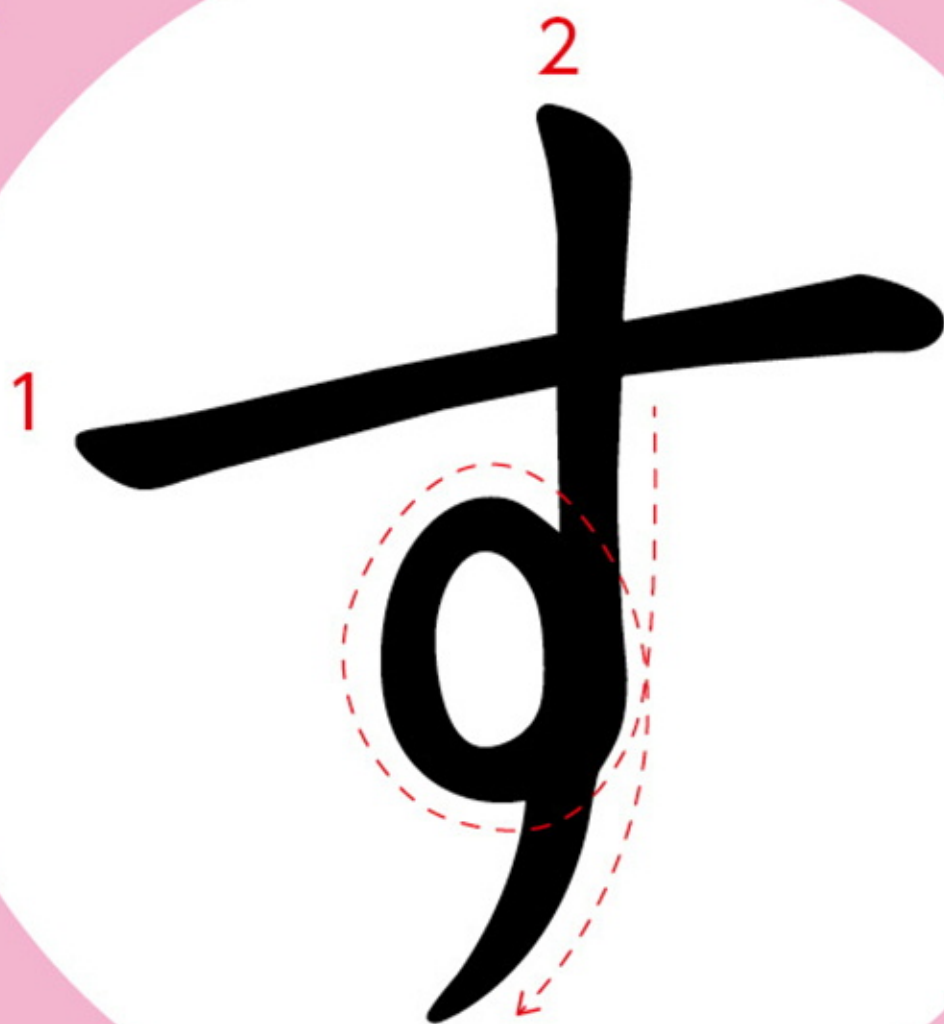

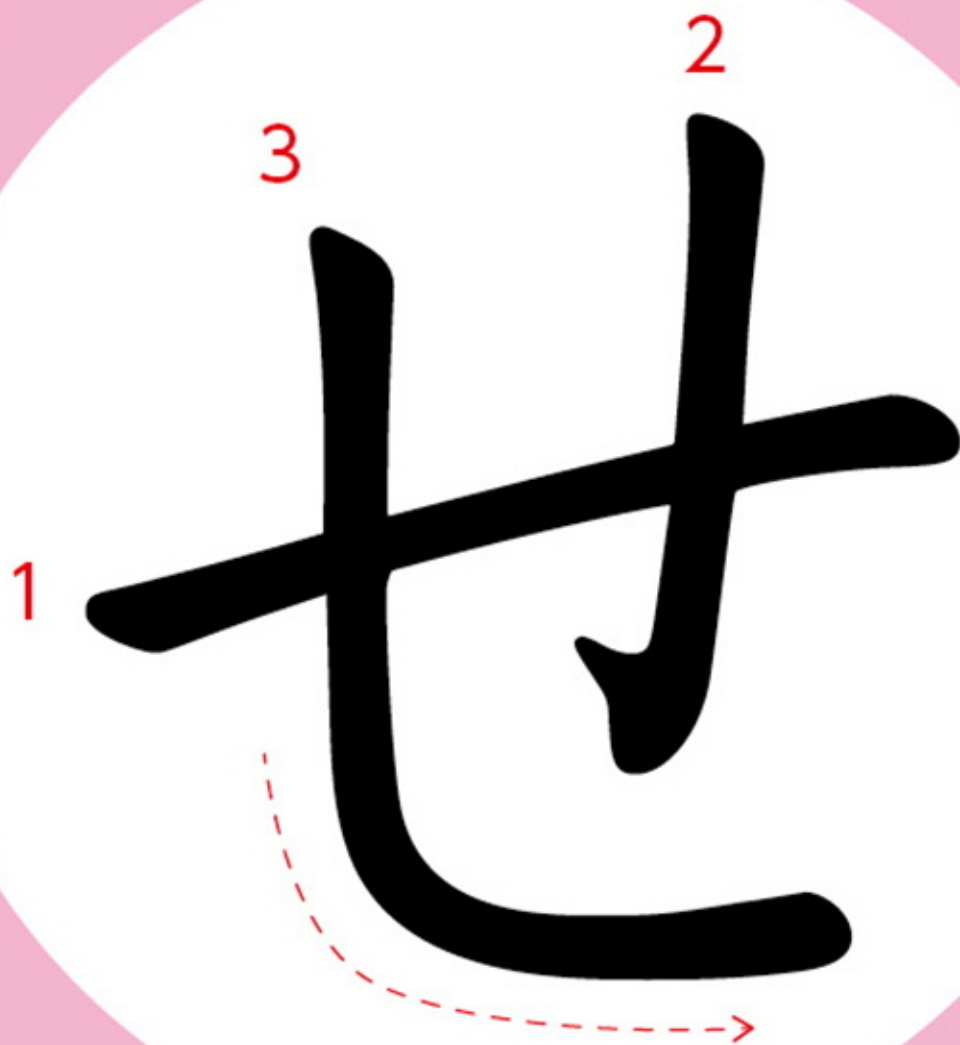

2

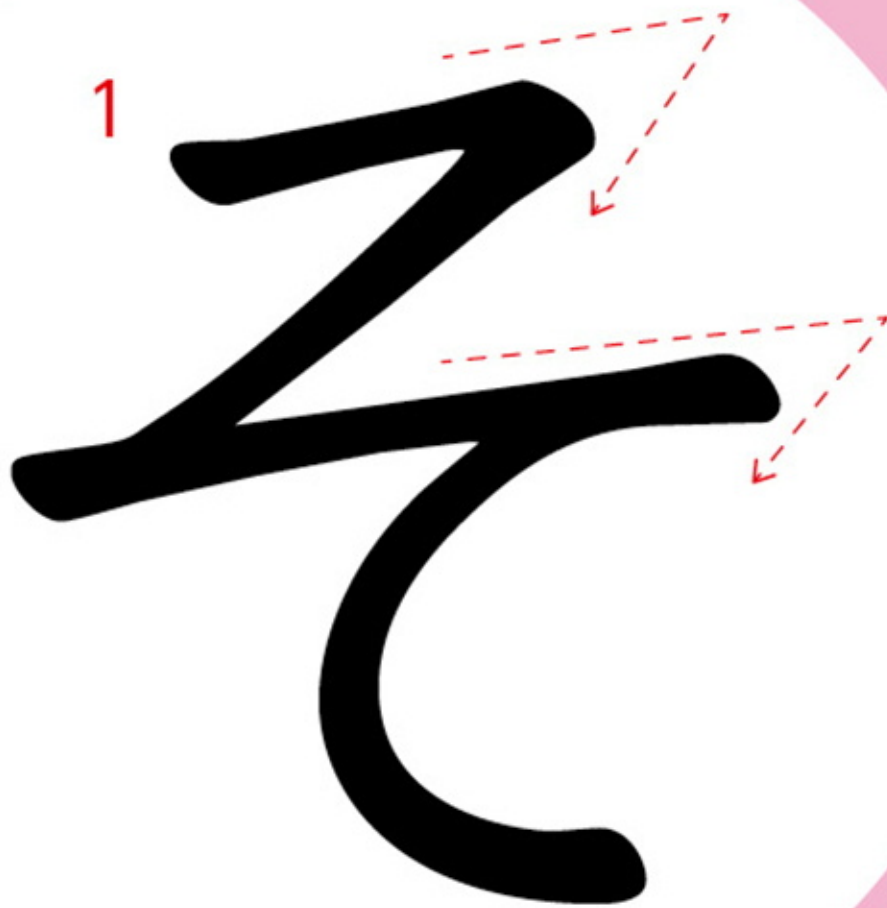

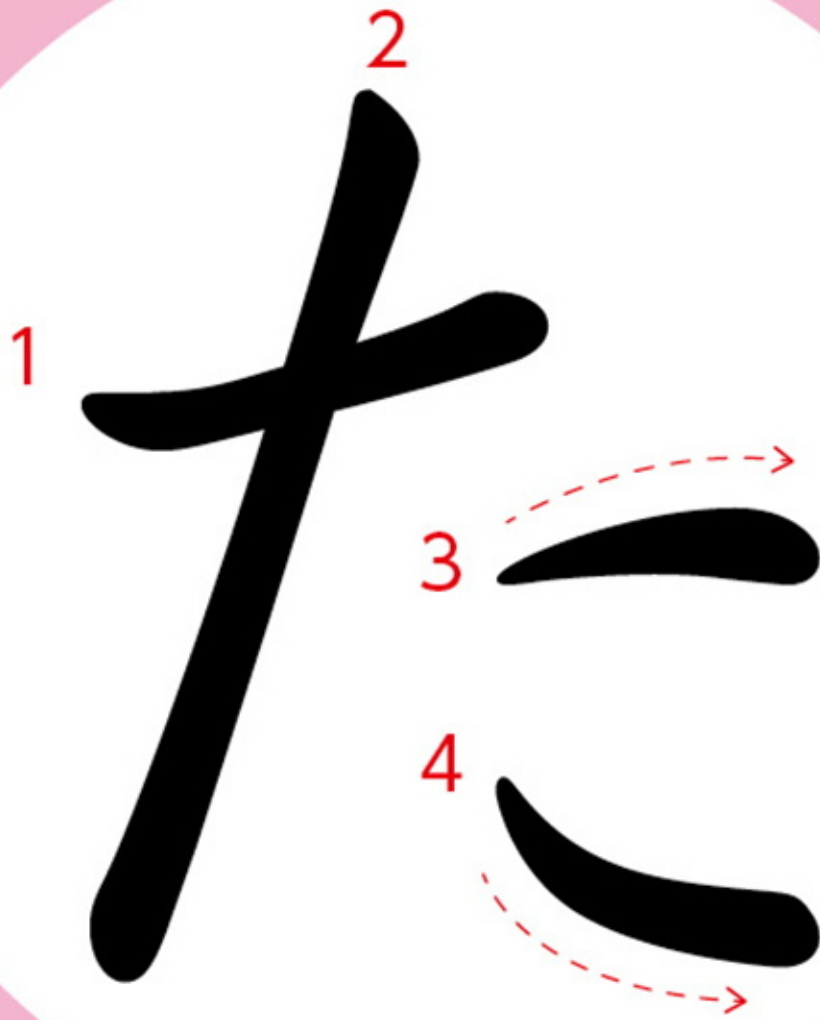

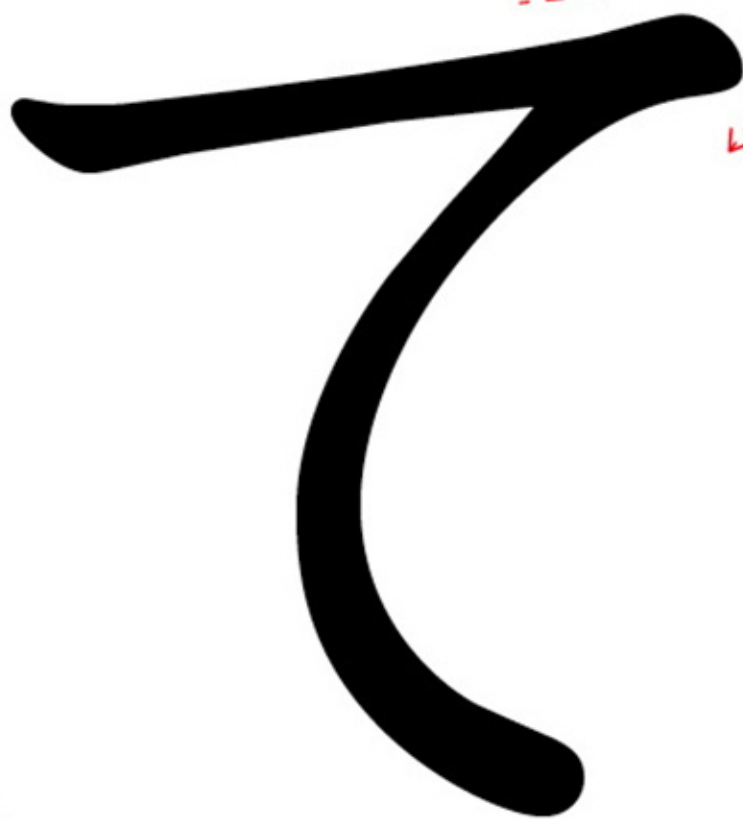

1 2

The image shows the Japanese character 'ち' (chi) written in a bold, black, calligraphic style. The character is centered within a white circle. The background of the entire page is pink with a repeating pattern of yellow stars. Two red numbers, '1' and '2', indicate the stroke order. Stroke 1 is a vertical line starting from the top left and moving down to the bottom left. Stroke 2 is a horizontal line starting from the top left and moving right, crossing the vertical line. A dashed red line with an arrow indicates the direction of the final stroke, which is a curved line starting from the bottom left and moving up and right to the bottom right.

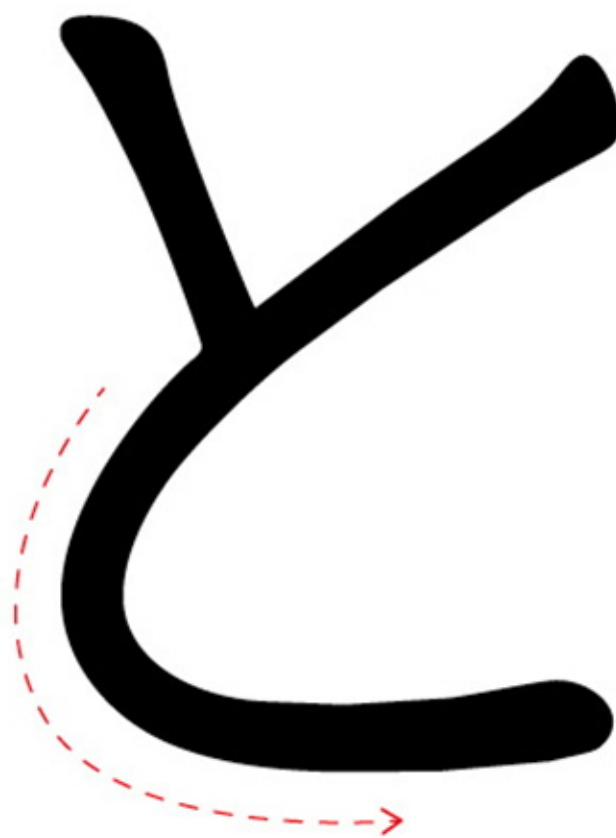

1

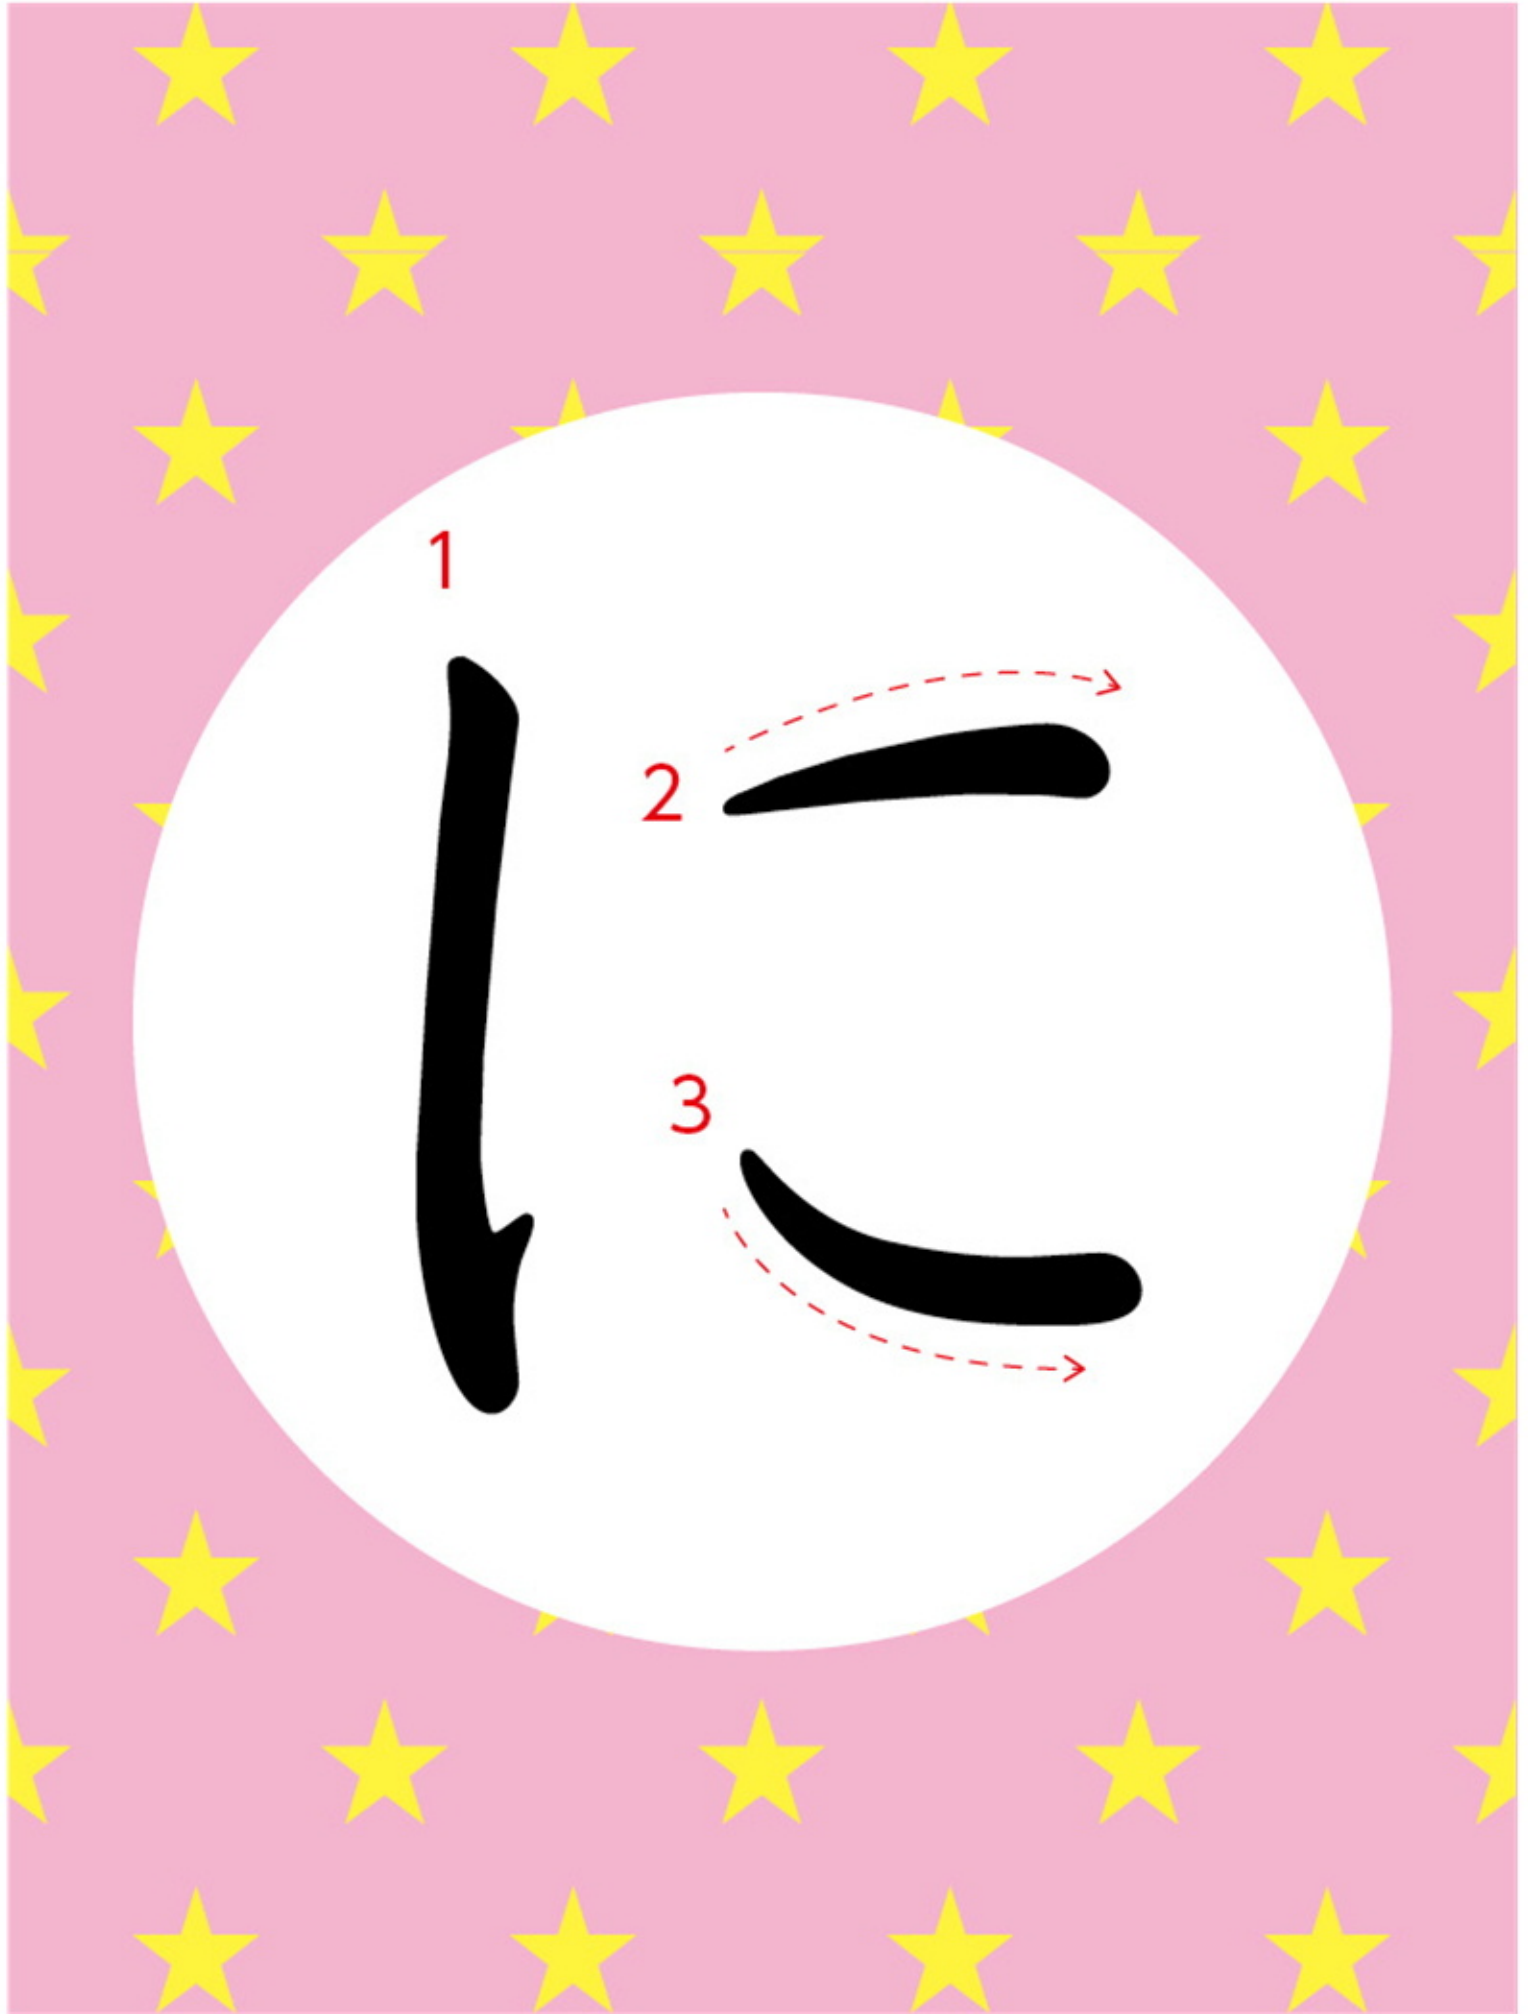

1

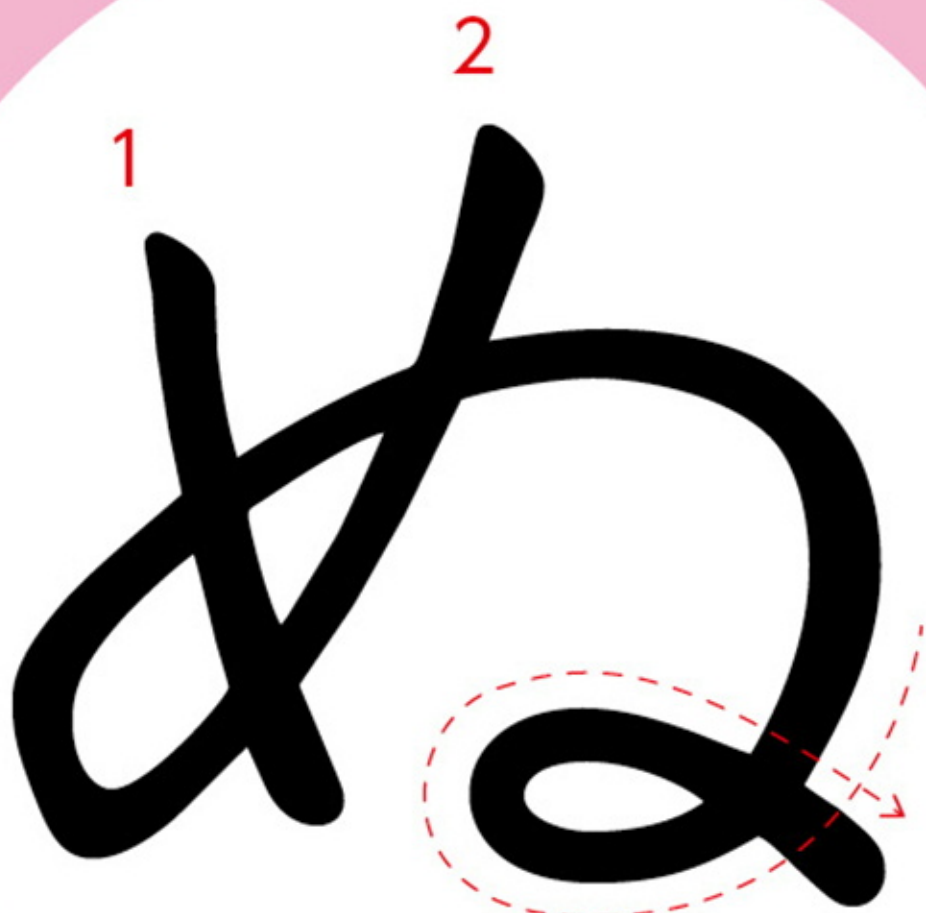

2

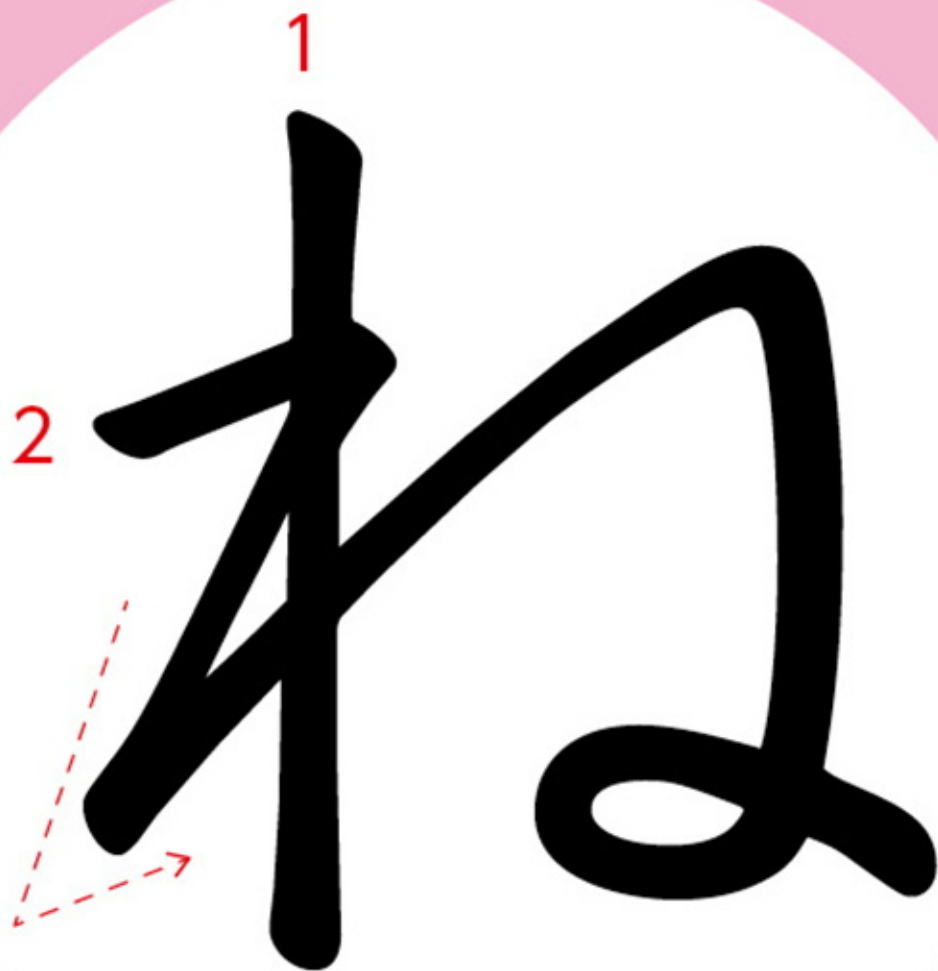

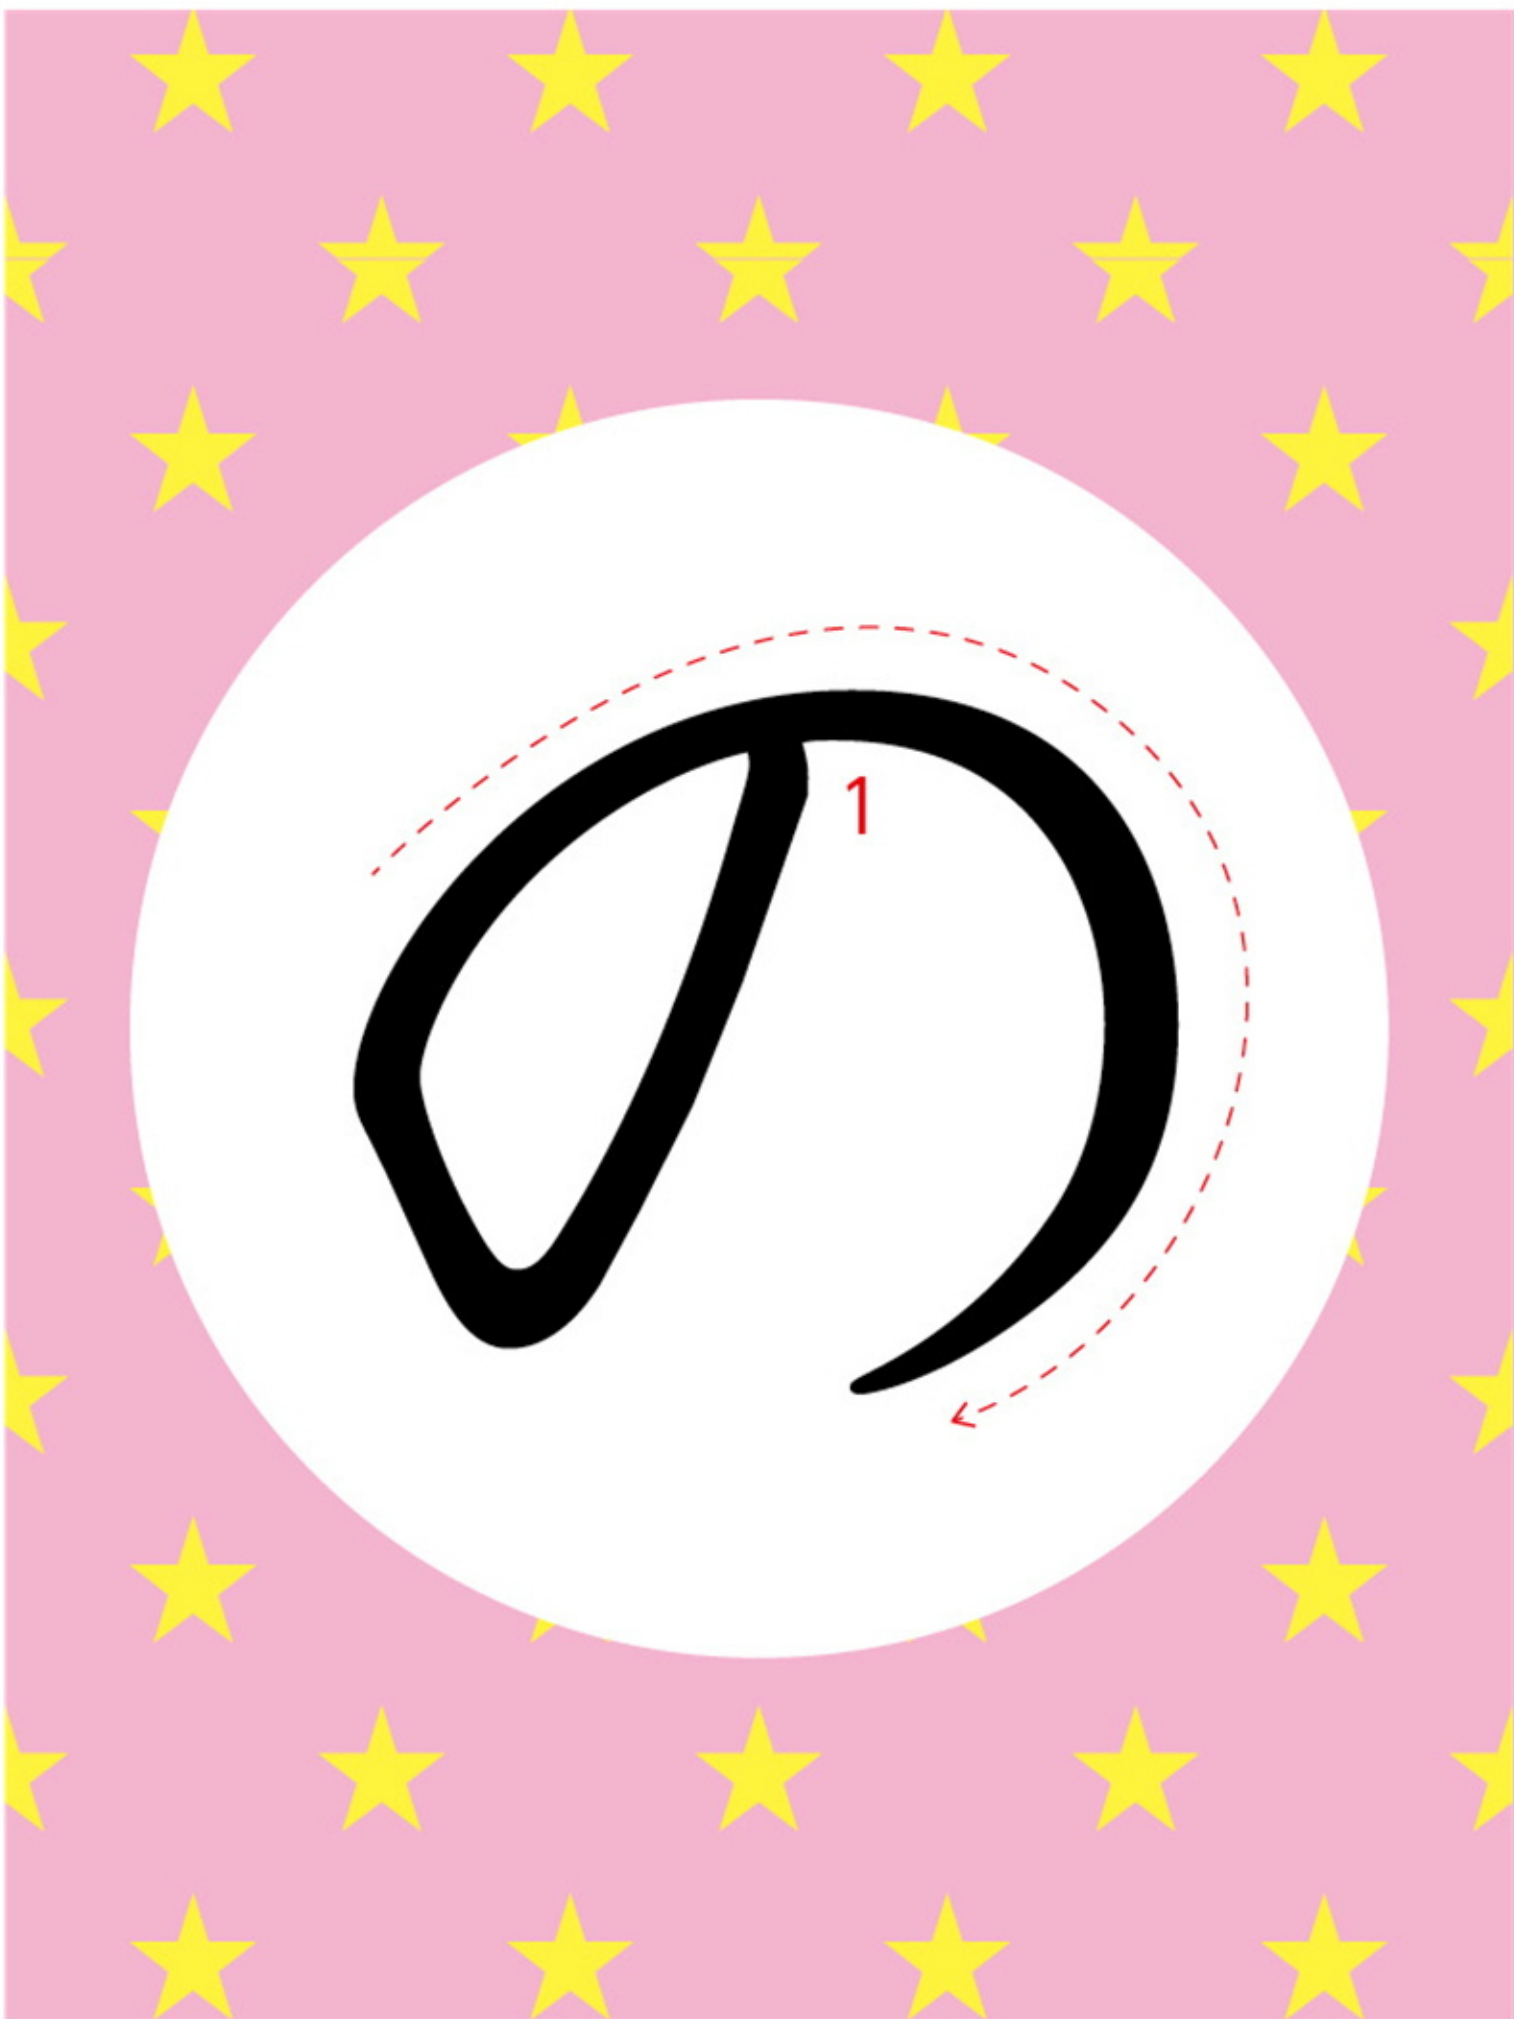

ね

1

2

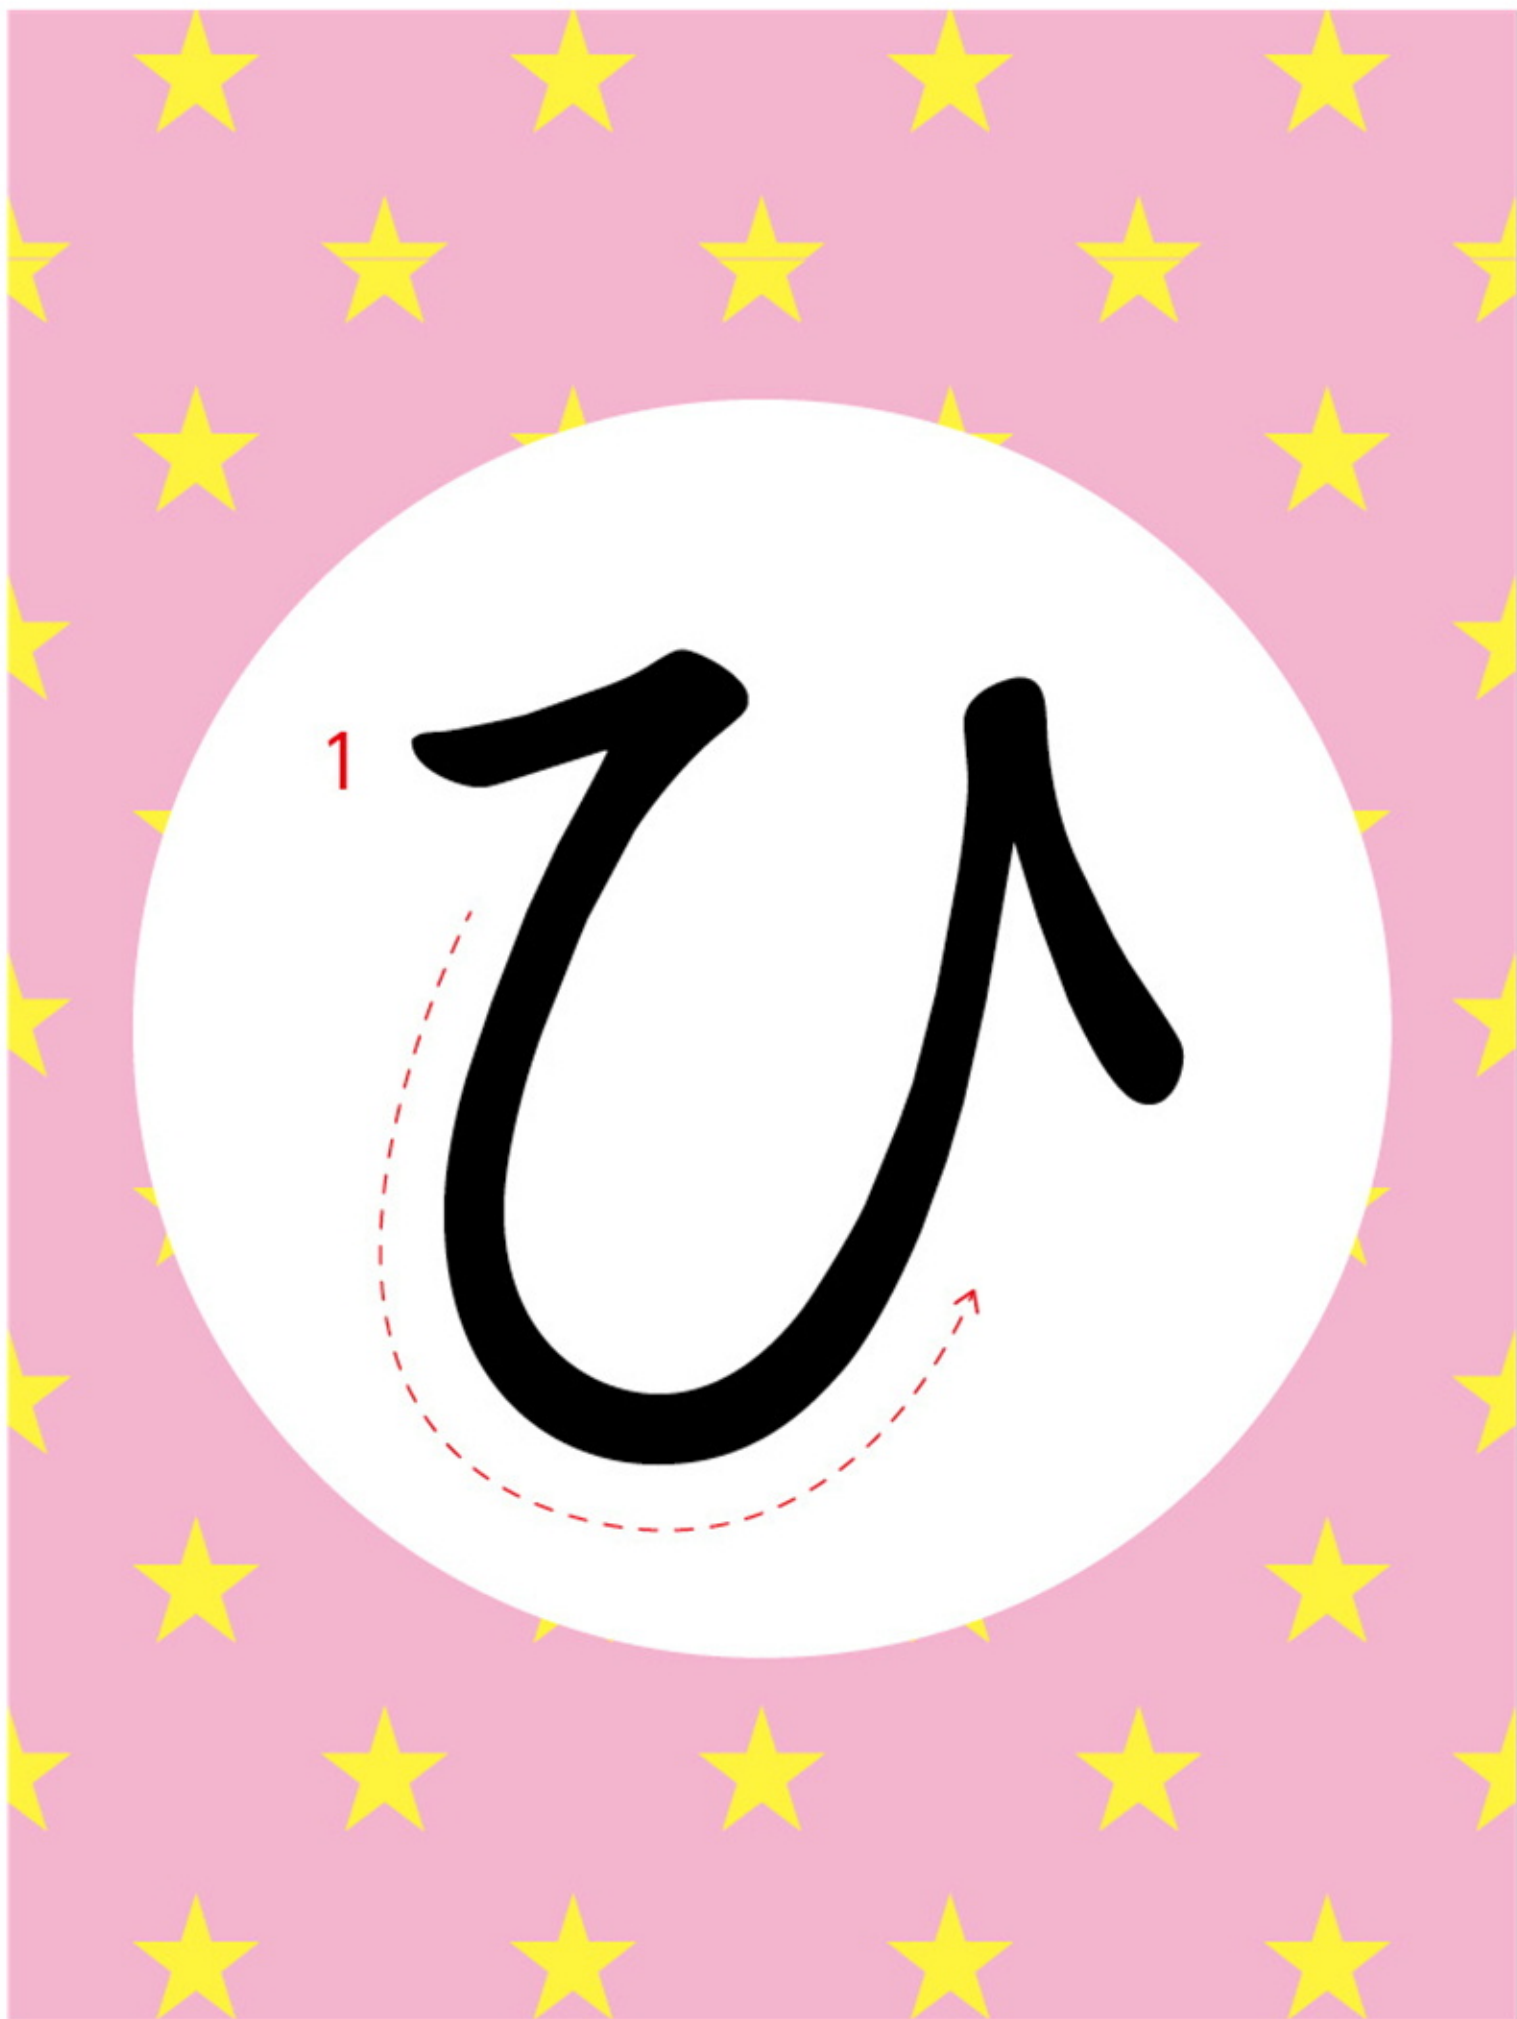

The image shows the Japanese character 'ね' (ne) written in a bold, black, cursive style. The character is centered within a white circle. The background of the entire page is pink with a repeating pattern of yellow stars. Red numbers '1' and '2' indicate the stroke order. Stroke 1 is a vertical line starting from the top and ending in a hook. Stroke 2 is a diagonal line starting from the top left and ending in a hook. A dashed red line with arrows shows the path of stroke 2.

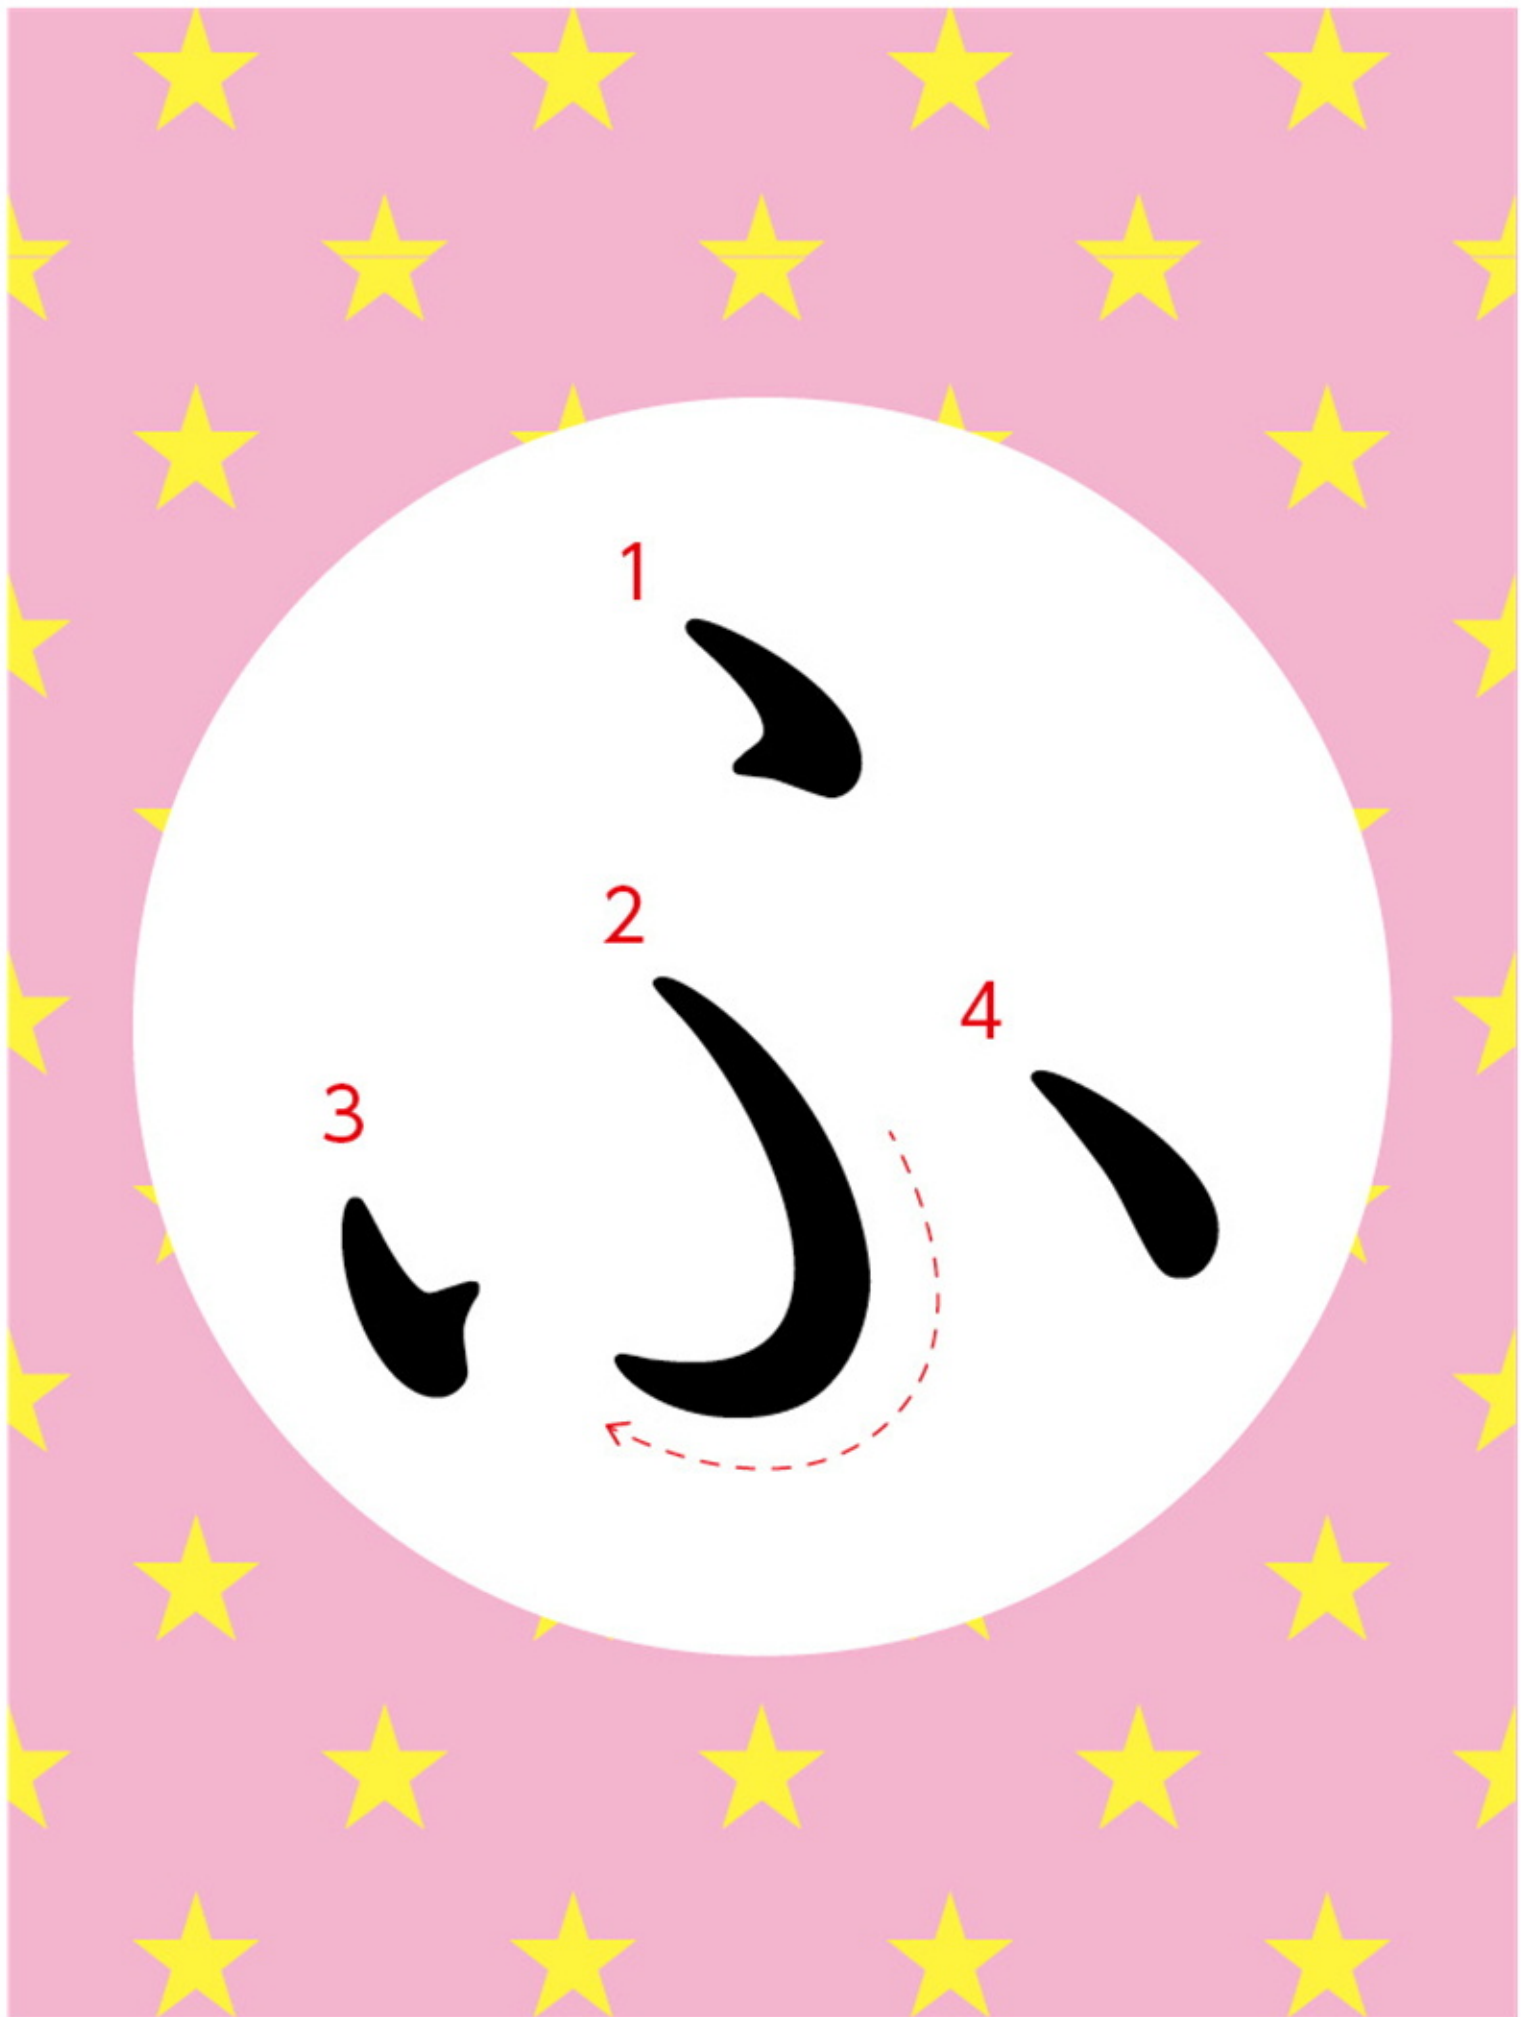

1

